

Hi, I'm Ozlem. I'm from Turkey. And _____ (here / hear) is my question: what are some _____ (tips / tops) in language learning?

I have been an ESL teacher _____ (from / for) over 20 years, and I would like to say a few _____ (thing / things) about language learning. I always see people _____ (trying / try) to find a shortcut in language _____ (learner / learning). Yes, you can have a shortcut in the _____ (sense / since) of time, but I don't believe you can have a shortcut in the _____ (since / sense) of effort. So, number one, you should _____ (found / find) the reason: why do you want to learn _____ (this / these) language?

For example, if you want to speak _____ (fluently / fluent), you should focus on speaking and listening _____ (activity / activities). I generally see people _____ (complain / complaining) about the amount of time they have _____ (spent / spending) and have no result at the end. But when we look _____ (closed / closer) at their studies, we see that they have not _____ (spend / spent) enough time in that _____ (specific / specifically) skill they want. And secondly, you should follow a _____ (systems / system). If you follow a system, if you have a system, and thirdly, if you _____ (have / having) fun, this is very important, you will _____ (definite / definitely) learn the language. So have a system _____ (or / and) have fun. Love what you are _____ (done / doing). Thank you. See you _____ (later / late). Bye.
