

Have you ever had a _____ (beloved / belong) pet?

I've actually always been a dog _____ (person / people) and I've always wanted a dog, but I never really got one up _____ (unless / until) now. So now I have, I would like to say _____ (small / smell) puppy, but he is not that small. He's Belgian Shepherd, a Malinois, and he's _____ (became / becoming) very big, which is an _____ (increasing / increase) problem in our household.

But to be honest with you, I never really understood people _____ (who / how) had pets, and I never _____ (understood / understand) how they could love a pet so much. But now that I have _____ (him / he), his name is Maki, _____ (bye / by) the way, like the sushi. Now that I have Maki _____ (in / at) my life, I can definitely understand that you can love _____ (the / an) animal so, so much. And if it was _____ (up / on) to me, I would spend all _____ (at / of) my waking hours with him, _____ (or / but) I can't. So I just have to be at peace _____ (of / with) that. But yeah, he is a very, very beloved dog in _____ (our / are) house.
