

Hi, I am Olivia. I'm from Washington, DC and right ____ (now / new) I live in London. And my question is, do I have a timeframe for my future ____ (goals / fold)?

And the answer is yes. Part of the ____ (reason / reason) is because I live in London. My visa depends on me making ____ (certain / certain) career goals ____ (by / buy) a certain time. Otherwise, I'm unable to stay in this country. So, I'm an actor, and ____ (how / what) that means is I have to perform in a certain amount of professional ____ (productions / products), whether that be ____ (through / throughout) theater or film and TV in a certain amount of ____ (country's / countries) in order to get my next visa. And that for me expires in ____ (around / about) a year and a half.

So I have a year and a half to do ____ (may be / maybe) one professional production here in the UK, maybe one ____ (professionally / professional) production ____ (somewhere / somehow) else. Hopefully somewhere that pays well, maybe ____ (somehow / someplace) like Germany. And all of those productions have to have a certain number of ____ (credentials / credits) and reviews. So, yes, I have a ____ (years / year) and a half to start ____ (supporting / support) myself as an actor so that I can stay ____ (living / loving) and working in London, which is what I would really ____ (live / like) to do.
