

Task: Put the correct object pronoun (me, you, him, her, it, them, us) in the blanks.

Shantel: So Todd, you live in Japan. Do you see your family often?

Todd: Yes. I see _____ often. I see _____ usually once a year, but I write to _____ often, and I call _____ sometimes.

Shantel: Okay. And when you see _____, do you go to the United States to visit _____, or do they come to Japan?

Todd: I go to America, and then everyone goes to my mom's house, and everybody meets _____ at my mom's house, which is nice. I see my sister, and we talk a lot, and it's good.

Shantel: Does your mother miss _____?

Todd: Yes. She misses _____ and I miss _____ a lot, so it's very nice to see _____, and also, I miss my dad. I miss _____ a lot, so I'm always happy to see _____.

Shantel: Nice. What about your sister? When you're in the United States, do you have some activities you like to do together?

Todd: Yeah, sometimes we do stuff together. Maybe I will meet _____ at a café, or I will go shopping with _____, so we do something fun each time I go back.

Shantel: Nice.

Todd: Also, when I go home, I see my best friend, and that's always nice. I usually meet _____ for dinner, and of course I call _____, and it's always nice to see my best friend. And how about your family?

Shantel: Well, since I live in Japan, I also call _____ and write to _____, but usually, we only Skype about once a month.

Todd: Oh. So, who do you Skype with the most, your mom or your dad?

Shantel: I Skype the most with my father, because he wakes up very early, so his time and his schedule match my schedule, so it is easy for _____ to Skype.

Todd: Do you call _____ or does he call _____?

Shantel: I usually call _____, but sometimes he calls _____. Usually, if he calls _____, it's because I haven't called in a long time.

Todd: Uh-oh.

Shantel: Mm-hmm.

Todd: So sometimes, you make him mad.

Shantel: A little angry.

Todd: Right. That's nice. But, you have a brother too, right?

Shantel: I do have a brother, and I call _____ less frequently, because he is so busy with his job, so we speak about once or twice a month, by messages or by phone.

Todd: Oh, that's nice. So, do you follow your family on social media?

Shantel: Yes. I use Facebook.

Todd: Oh, I use _____ too.

Shantel: It is a really easy way to keep in contact with ____.

Todd: Yeah, I agree. What about other social media? Do you use Twitter?

Shantel: No. I don't use Twitter, and I don't use other social media either, only Facebook.

Todd: Ah, that's good, I think. Too much is too bad.

Shantel: I agree, but I do love Facebook, because I can speak with my brother, and my mother, and my father anytime.

Todd: So, with Facebook, do you check ____ every day?

Shantel: I do check ____ every day. Maybe it's a bad habit, but I do like to check it every day. Do you check your Facebook every day?

Todd: Not every day. I check ____ maybe three times a week.

Shantel: Three times a week?

Todd: Yeah, I don't use ____ much, and I don't use ____ on my phone.

Shantel: Oh. That's a good idea.

Todd: Yeah. I like my free time.

Shantel: Do you use other social media, such as Twitter or Instagram?

Todd: I do use Twitter, but I don't use ____ on my phone. I only use ____ on the computer.

Shantel: Okay. What about Instagram?

Todd: Oh, I don't use ____ at all. Do you use ____?

Shantel: No, I don't use ____.

Todd: Oh, that's right. You only use Facebook.

Shantel: I only use Facebook.

Todd: Oh, interesting. Well, that's nice that we can talk to our family on Skype and Facebook because Japan is so far from America.

Shantel: Yes, and I think they are very happy, too.

Todd: Yeah, I think they are happy.

Listen Online!

Check your answers

Full Script - Answer Key

Shantel: So Todd, you live in Japan. Do you see your family often?

Todd: Yes. I see them often. I see them usually once a year, but I write to them often, and I call them sometimes.

Shantel: Okay. And when you see them, do you go to the United States to visit them, or do they come to Japan?

Todd: I go to America, and then everyone goes to my mom's house, and everybody meets me at my mom's house, which is nice. I see my sister, and we talk a lot, and it's good.

Shantel: Does your mother miss you?

Todd: Yes. She misses me and I miss her a lot, so it's very nice to see her, and also, I miss my dad. I miss him a lot, so I'm always happy to see him.

Shantel: Nice. What about your sister? When you're in the United States, do you have some activities you like to do together?

Todd: Yeah, sometimes we do stuff together. Maybe I will meet her at a café, or I will go shopping with her, so we do something fun each time I go back.

Shantel: Nice.

Todd: Also, when I go home, I see my best friend, and that's always nice. I usually meet him for dinner, and of course I call him, and it's always nice to see my best friend. And how about your family?

Shantel: Well, since I live in Japan, I also call them and write to them, but usually, we only Skype about once a month.

Todd: Oh. So, who do you Skype with the most, your mom or your dad?

Shantel: I Skype the most with my father, because he wakes up very early, so his time and his schedule match my schedule, so it is easy for us to Skype.

Todd: Do you call him or does he call you?

Shantel: I usually call him, but sometimes he calls me. Usually, if he calls me, it's because I haven't called in a long time.

Todd: Uh-oh.

Shantel: Mm-hmm.

Todd: So sometimes, you make him mad.

Shantel: A little angry.

Todd: Right. That's nice. But, you have a brother too, right?

Shantel: I do have a brother, and I call him less frequently, because he is so busy with his job, so we speak about once or twice a month, by messages or by phone.

Todd: Oh, that's nice. So, do you follow your family on social media?

Shantel: Yes. I use Facebook.

Todd: Oh, I use it too.

Shantel: It is a really easy way to keep in contact with them.

Todd: Yeah, I agree. What about other social media? Do you use Twitter?

Shantel: No. I don't use Twitter, and I don't use other social media either, only Facebook.

Todd: Ah, that's good, I think. Too much is too bad.

Shantel: I agree, but I do love Facebook, because I can speak with my brother, and my mother, and my father anytime.

Todd: So, with Facebook, do you check it every day?

Shantel: I do check it every day. Maybe it's a bad habit, but I do like to check it every day. Do you check your Facebook every day?

Todd: Not every day. I check it maybe three times a week.

Shantel: Three times a week?

Todd: Yeah, I don't use it much, and I don't use it on my phone.

Shantel: Oh. That's a good idea.

Todd: Yeah. I like my free time.

Shantel: Do you use other social media, such as Twitter or Instagram?

Todd: I do use Twitter, but I don't use it on my phone. I only use it on the computer.

Shantel: Okay. What about Instagram?

Todd: Oh, I don't use it at all. Do you use it?

Shantel: No, I don't use it.

Todd: Oh, that's right. You only use Facebook.

Shantel: I only use Facebook.

Todd: Oh, interesting. Well, that's nice that we can talk to our family on Skype and Facebook because Japan is so far from America.

Shantel: Yes, and I think they are very happy, too.

Todd: Yeah, I think they are happy.

Listen Online!

Check your answers

