Hi, my name Nerry, and I'm Belize. My question is, what your job?
My job a personal trainer. This means I get help people lose weight, get more slim. I get to help people live a better quality life because you have better life when you more stronger, when you're able do more things, when you're able walk further and when you're to lift things. It's also good when exercise, when you have personal trainer because your bones get stronger your muscles get stronger. I also get help people, build confidence, love themselves more.
I really love job. I love my job so much I stopped my other job to focus this job. This job is my passion because I love this job.
